

ALLIES ARE PREPARED TO STOP SMASH

IN SUCCESSFUL IN CAPTURING IMPORTANT POSITIONS ON THE SOMME POINTS.

HUNS ARE DESPERATE

Determined Counter-Drives of Huns
Are Repulsed at All Points—
Artillery Fire Reported Violent.

The expected renewal of the German offensive having failed to develop, the allies are continuing their tactics of reaching out and gaining all vantage points possible, from which they can better resist a new drive. They pushed out their lines from Hailes on the Somme front, the objective being a wood situated about a point where the Germans have made their farthest westward gain and within a short distance of the Amiens railroad.

Capture Woods.

The operation was entirely successful resulting in the capture of the woods on the slope west of the river, a position which improves considerably the defensive position in this important sector.

The Germans recognized it for they countered strongly at night, but their determined attacks were repulsed, after spirited fighting and the British still remain in control, after having cut up the enemy badly with their fire and capturing three scores of prisoners.

Artillery Fire Violent.

The artillery fire reported from Paris has been violent during the night north of Montdidier where the Americans are holding a portion of the front. The bombardment was severe also along the southerly side of the Montdidier salient as far east as Mirecourt.

The London statement also indicates considerable activity by the hostile artillery along the British front in the Somme and Aisne valley. It has also increased in violence in the region between the Somme and Magenta Court, where the Australians recently made notable advances and where the reported early German efforts to regain lost ground.

Start Fighting Early.

On the Flanders front the Germans likewise started their heavy fire early today in the Kemmel sector after having worked their guns hard during the night on the southerly side from the Ijsselsel region in the Bethune area.

French troops yesterday evening attacked German positions on and near Hailes on the front below Amiens and captured a wood on the west bank of the Aisne river. It is announced in an official statement. The Germans made a counter attack and were beaten off with heavy losses.

During the night there was a general bombardment north of Montdidier.

London, May 15.—The emperors of Germany and Austria-Hungary, at their meeting at the great German headquarters today, the papers stated, selected a monarch for Lischkowitz, Corland and Poland.

London, May 15.—The German artillery fire increased this morning near Morlancourt south of Albert, in the Flanders district and north of Kemmel, the war office announces.

STILL WAITING.—In Flanders and Picardy there are still no indications that the Germans are ready for another heavy infantry attack and most of the attacks for the past week have been of purely local character. They were made probably to clear out the rear of the lines in advance of a new offensive. The biggest attacks have been made north of Kemmel and south of Albert and have all been repulsed.

ENEMY REPULSED.—On the southern battlefield the German efforts have been on a front of one mile from Morlancourt between the Somme and Aisne rivers, but it was not pushed strongly. The enemy gained one sector and penetrated the British line at one point being recovered with heavy losses. A major attack by Australians restored the British position. The attack north of Kemmel was against the French on Bell 44 and adjoining elements. The Germans gained the hill which dominates the region, but Field Marshal Hindenburg reports that they were finally repulsed.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE.—Almost a week has gone by since the Germans stopped any heavy activity and the attack north of Kemmel north of Albert was apparently in great strength, it was where the enemy will probably run his next heavy assault. It is not unlikely that the attack was made to ascertain the result of the German artillery fire, which continues exceedingly violent along those sectors.

ACTIVE BEHIND LINES.—Considerable activity is reported to be going on behind the German lines in the sector of Montdidier, where the Americans hold a section of the allied line. French batteries have broken up the German troops. The artillery fire along the American line in Picardy and northwest of Toul has been below normal.

IN ITALY.—In the Italian district the artillery fire is more lively than the mountain front from the Grappa to the Piazza. Italian troops on Mt. Cima have repulsed further Austrian attacks to regain the summit of the mountain.

WOLD MET CORN.—Much interest is displayed in the allied capitals as to the meeting of the German and Austrian emperors and their military officials, employer and business men of the Warrenton district were arrested at Bisbee this morning on indictments returned by the federal grand jury which last week concluded an investigation of the deportation last July of nearly 1200 members of the L. W. W.

The new Earl Kitchener succeeded to the title of his famous brother, the great war minister who was lost at sea on the British warship Hampshire. Like the first Earl Kitchener the new earl is a soldier. He served in both India and Africa, rising to the rank of colonel. He bears a striking resemblance to the famous Kitchener of Khartoum.

The official reports from London, Paris and Berlin show that the hardest fighting is now going on between Moreuil and Hangard, represented in the map by the broken part of the battle line. This section of the front is the nearest to Amiens just reached by the Germans and ranges from ten to twelve miles from the British base.

At Albert there also has been heavy fighting, the British throwing back two strong attempts of the Germans to advance westward from there. While the city is held by the Germans, the western outskirts, along which runs the railroad, is in possession of the British.

KING GEORGE INSPECTS THE AMERICAN AIRMEN

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Lincoln, England, May 15.—King George's first inspection of American airmen in training was made this week at a British aerodrome near here, where asquithian of American aviators is working with English fliers at the camp in Prince Albert and the King and Queen Mary had run down from London to see how their airmen son was getting on.

During the inspection on the parade ground, the King spoke with several of the American officers. The aerodrome is a large one, with plots for plots of airplanes and balloons. Pilots go there after passing through their preliminary course, and are taught to loop, roll, and dive, and to become expert in the many varieties of aerobatics which are the mark of the expert flying man.

Later they complete their education in the meteorology and the theory of flight, and finally pass on to a gunnery school and qualify for the rank of lieutenant. In summer, if the weather is favorable, the recruits can go through the full program in about ten weeks.

The King and Queen, in the course of about four hours, saw machines and buildings and apparatus none of which was dreamed of three years ago. Special attention was given to a giant Handley-Page machine which rested on a tarmac at the edge of the aerodrome.

The King, after donning a blue duster, climbed into the pilot's seat and the mechanics was explained to him by British and American officers.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, May 15.—Asked in the House of commons today by Robert E. Houston, a Liverpool ship owner, for information "as to our successful operation in capturing enemy submarines around the coast during the past three weeks," Thomas J. McNamee, financial secretary of the admiralty, made this reply:

"On the whole the general trend of the submarine war has progressed quite satisfactorily since the first of January."

INDEPENDENT MONARCHY NOT FAVORED

AUSTRIANS FAVOR MONARCHY WHICH WILL BE DEFENDED BY GERMANY TO MAINTAIN UNNATURAL POSITION.

IS IMPORTANT MOVE

Emperor William and Emperor Charles Held Meeting to Decide on Steps to be Taken.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

London, May 15.—At the meeting of Emperor William and Emperor Charles, the Daily Chronicle says, apparently a step was taken toward formally defining and recognizing the subservient relation of the Dual Monarchy toward the German empire. An independent Austria-Hungary, the newspaper adds, is impossible, chiefly because not one of its constituent nationalities wants it. The Austro-German and Magyar dominant minorities ruling over successive majority do not want an independent monarchy, but a monarchy dependent upon Germany, which can help them maintain their unnatural position.

On the other hand the Czechs, Slovaks and Jugoslavs do not want a dual monarchy in any form, independent or otherwise. They want independent states. Between these two schools, any attempt by Emperor Charles to reassert the independence of the Hapsburg is doomed to fail helplessly.

Two Viewpoints.

The recent meeting of Emperor William and Emperor Charles of Austria was of absorbing interest to the British public. There are two viewpoints which appear in the comment on the meeting. One as to the immediate result of the conference and the other as to its future result, both are of equal importance.

The first is the effect which the meeting is likely to have in military events, whether another blow at Italy may be expected to coincide with the daily expected renewal of the onslaught at the Anglo-French front. Also whether Austria can be persuaded to send troops to the western front to strengthen the allied German division. The more distant outcome of the meeting and the continuation of a political and economic alliance of the central powers is a realization that eventually must be faced in the materialization of the Mittel Europe policy and it is argued that this is accomplished the natural result of the entente and would be the logical outcome of the resolution calling for economic pressure against Germany known as the Paris resolution because it is contended that only by the strongest economic pressure could the entente deal with the greatest unit of power ever known in the world's history.

Austrian Comment.

Comment from Austrian newspapers reaching London tonight tends to confirm the opinion of the allied general powers that the conference was an all-embracing manner. Some German newspapers are unanimous in the view and demand Germany and Austria-Hungary should give their defensive alliance a general character. They also emphasize neither empire will give up its political, military or economic personality.

Fixed for 20 Years.

Copies of the necessary application blanks have been sent to the woman's committee for distribution or they may be secured from any civil service commission office.

Other positions open to women with scientific training are announced by the civil service commission. One is that of bacteriological technician and chemist's aid. That of bacteriological technician is open to women only. The duties of the position consist of laboratory diagnosis of diseases and in hospital work. Salaries range from $1,200 to $1,800 a year. The examinations will be given June 4th.

AMERICAN DOWNS HIS NINTH MACHINE.

Paris, May 15.—Frank L. Baillie of New Bedford, Mass., a member of the French flying force, has brought down another German airplane. His score is now nine enemy machines since February 19th.

A dispatch from Paris Tuesday announced Baillie had brought down his eighth machine. He is a member of the "Stork Esquadron."

RIVETING RECORD IS SHATTERED IN LONDON.

London, May 15.—The Clyde has beaten the London riveting record, according to the British mail.

Thomas Devine, former soldier at the Dalziel Works of William Beaumont & Co., has driven 4422 rivets in the side of a ship in nine hours. The London record made last week by Robert Furman was 4276 rivets in a tank in the same time.

CAMP CUSTER BOYS NOT PREPARED FOR SUMMER.

Battle Creek, Mich., May 15.—The sudden decision to leave the camp for the winter, without any preparation among the men, has caused much sweltering for a few days until the men obtained their summer clothing.

The first day of summer-like weather carried the mercury to 81 degrees at the camp, but there was no comfort in the heat among the men.

The camp is in constant touch with Grant Camp by wireless and there is also an ambulance company and a field hospital company with the brigade.

The men will break camp tomorrow morning early and will be on the road by seven o'clock. It is thought that they will reach this city about nine-thirty o'clock. They will come through South Janesville and up Main street on the street on the way to the grounds at Leyden. A detachment of engineers is also ahead of the brigade

FIGHTING CHAPLAIN SPEAKS TO ELKS ON THE WAR SUBJECTS

Reverend Harry W. Jones to Tell of the War at Elks' Lodge Gathering Tuesday, May 21st.

Rev. Harry W. Jones, known as the "Fighting Chaplain" of the Elks' brotherhood, will be the speaker at the meeting of Janesville Lodge 254 of the
B. P. O. E. on Tuesday, May 21st. Chaplain
Jones comes from the New York State Elks' association, of which he has been state chaplain for three years. He was for twelve years chaplain in the navy, serving on the U.S.A.T. "Pocumtuck," during the Spanish-American war. He was present at the battle of Santiago harbor when the American fleet defeated the battle squadron of Spain, sinking or capturing every ship engaged.

He will speak on "With the Navy in Action" and "The World War and that Unseen Eighty Four." His address, which is based upon his own experiences and knowledge which he acquired at first hand, is expected to be particularly interesting at this time, when America is entering on her second year of the war. In view of the large number of Rock county youths who have gone into the navy, his residential life and work will be particularly apt.

The fact that the chaplain is selected for return dates in every city which he has spoken in, speaks well for his ability as a speaker. On May 14, Flag Day, he will speak at Wildwood, Ind., and from there back to Joliet, Ill., on Tuesday night for his ninth address in that city. From Joliet he will go to Michigan City.

In addition to being an Elk, Chaplain Jones is a 32nd degree Mason and a member of the Knights of Columbus. With him the chapter encloses a cane presented to him by Dr. John Price at St. Kitts, British West Indies, while he was chaplain on the U. S. S. Texas. The cane is made of wood taken from the top of Mt. Pelee before the eruption, and since it has been in his possession has been around the world several times.

SENATOR ROY WILCOX WILL GIVE TALK HERE

Senator Roy Wilcox will give an address on Loyalty at the union service at the Congregational church on Sunday evening. Mr. Wilcox is speaking under the auspices of the Loyalty League and the Red Cross and has an enviable record as a talker.

Senator Wilcox has given many addresses throughout the country on the subject of "Loyalty" and his address on Sunday evening should prove very interesting.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR TAXI SERVICE

Arrangements have been made again this season by the directors of the Golf club with Bugles Garage to carry the members to and from the course. The service will be on call on the hour or half hour at points from the Myers Hotel or at convenient points up to the Bugles garage. An extra rate of fare will be charged for calls at the homes for passengers.
On returning from the grounds calls will be attended to fifteen minutes after and to the hour schedule.

First Charge Across No Man's Land Is Soldier's Big, Agonizing Thrill

The first charge in the dark across No Man's Land is the soldier's big, agonizing thrill in this war. He may have encouraged a long-ground attack twice before and he may do so again and again afterward. But twice again will he have the same sensations—the preliminary great fear and succeeding strange calmness, a mixture of emotions in actually a few minutes of waiting, a wild dash of impulsion, each indelibly engraved in memory.

World Baldwin was many months in the trenches with a Canadian regiment and went through the worse of punishment at Ypres before he took part in an open attack in force upon the enemy. What he felt and how it came to be his last fight he describes graphically in a chapter of his book, "Holding the Line," which just now has been issued. He writes:

"Midnight; we were sleeping in an earth-and-tin shelter of the trench. I was awakened by a sergeant and told to 'fall in.' We did so and the captain told us what to do.

"Boys," he said, "you are going to try and take out our line. The artillery—what we have of it—will shell their first line for half an hour, and then will lift and play on their second line. While they are doing this you will go over. There's a lot of us who are not going to come back, but the job must be done, and I know you will do it."

THOUGHTS OF HOME SURGE THROUGH MIND

While he was talking, thoughts of mother, father and home surged more vividly through my mind than at any other time. We swung out of the orchard onto the road and nothing could be heard except the dull sound of trudging feet.

"Planes would shoot up into the sky, wings suspended a moment, leaving everything in gloom once more. Every now and then a muffled shriek or a coughing gurgle would tell of the passing or wounding of some gallant lad."

"We trudged silently, every man busy with his own thoughts. At last we turned up a dead end trap to our left, one of famous Z road. Over its chaotic piles of dead we filed for many yards without touching solid ground, so thickly lay the dead."

"At this time we were sighted by the Germans and they treated us to fusillades of machine gun and rifle fire. We were now almost to shore and the men made their way to the safety in a well constructed trench.

A short rest, then on again, this time up a shallow communication trench, then out behind a low lying ravine. Three or four Bavarians lay with faces to the stars; they had been hurriedly laid to one side by our leading files.

Edgerton, May 15.—The Highway trailer company loaded a trailer yesterday to be shipped to Washington, D. C., where it will be given a severe test by the government. The trailer is one of the two wheel type and three ton capacity. All trailers of this capacity formerly built have been of the four wheel type. The special construction of this trailer gives but 75 pounds load on the draw bar per ton, and the newest any trailer of a like capacity has ever been was 225 pounds draft per ton on the draw bar. This sample trailer will be given 6,000 miles during its test, which will thoroughly prove its efficiency.

PLAN EXTENSION OF GREAT LAKES STATION

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Great Lakes, Ill., May 15.—Great Lakes already, the largest naval training station in the world—is to be made still bigger according to dispatches recently received from Washington.

These dispatches announced that the House of Representatives has passed the bill authorizing an additional $1,700,000 to the bill for the purpose of purchasing additional land for the Great Lakes Station. An amendment to the bill providing for this amount was introduced by Representative Padgett, chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee. Authority is given the president to add to the land by condemnation or other proceedings.

The house also adopted committee amendments adding $10,295,000 to the bill for hospital construction, of which $65,000 is provided for use at Great Lakes.

In the meantime, steps were taken in Waukegan for the leasing of 200 additional acres for the station. The leasehold became effective May 1, it was announced.

The acreage involved is said to include all the subdivided territory within the limits of North Chicago and east of the Northwestern railroad tracks. Thirty acres of Fort Pike, formerly a recreation ground for the men, representing the miners, met and discussed the miners' wage scale with Dr. Harry A. Garland, United States Fuel Administrator.

TRACTOR ANNOUNCEMENT

Seven Famous Fordson Tractors Will Arrive This Week

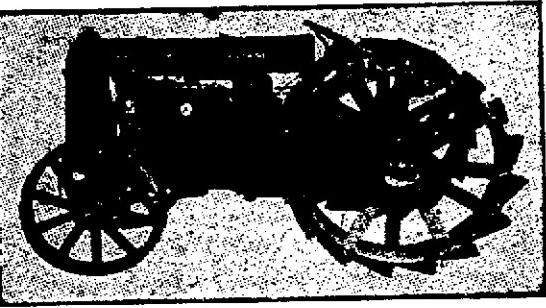

THE "FORDSON" TRACTOR is the result of extensive trials and experiments conducted by Mr. Henry Ford, covering a period of many years. Before placing the tractor on the market, every detail has been thoroughly tried out under actual farming conditions in various parts of this country and abroad.

Experience has pointed to the small, light tractor as being the one machine which will fill all varying conditions satisfactorily. In developing the "FORDSON" Tractor, the aim has been to produce a small tractor which will be low in first cost, reliable, and above all—efficient.

Being small, light and economical, the "FORDSON" Tractor is adapted for use on small farms, as well as on the largest. It will pull all farm implements and do the work generally done by horses on the farm. In addition, by its belt pulley the tractor will drive farm machinery such as a thresher ensilage cutter, sawmill, etc., making the "FORDSON" a truly universal tractor.

In design and construction the "FORDSON" takes a long step in approaching the ideal tractor. The simplicity of its operation and construction will at once appeal to the farmer.

Special devices were perfected to keep out dust and dirt. All moving parts are enclosed and thoroughly lubricated. The number of lubricating points requiring attention are very few and easily gotten at.

The motor, transmission, and rear axle are assembled together, forming one rigid unit, which combined with the three-point suspension, relieves these parts of all strain.

The absence of any frame gives accessibility to all parts for making adjustments or repairs, and allows the tractor to be taken apart in a few minutes.

The motor is of substantial design and is capable of delivering its full power continuously. It embodies features which have been used with success in other fields for many years.

SPECIFICATIONS:

VAPORIZER

The tractor is equipped with a special design vaporizer, which heats the kerosene vapor, and mixing it with fresh, cool air, supplies a dry explosive mixture to the cylinders. To start the engine gasoline is used and after about one minute when the vaporizer is sufficiently heated, it is shifted to kerosene.

Fuel is supplied by gravity from a twenty-one gallon overhead tank.

AIR WASHER

The air supply is drawn through water. The wear on the cylinder walls is thus greatly reduced because of all dust having been removed from the air.

CLUTCH

Multiple steel disc running in oil.

TRANSMISSION

Constant mesh, selective type, three speeds forward and one reverse; all shafts run on ball bearings. Gears are made of vanadium steel and hardened. Final drive is by worm and worm wheel. All gearing is entirely enclosed and runs in oil.

DIFFERENTIAL

Four pinion bevel type and is carried on ball bearings.

REAR AXLE

Is of vanadium steel and rotates in roller bearings on the outer ends.

FRONT AXLE

"I" beam section. Drop forging made of vanadium steel. It is attached in the center directly to the front of the engine, giving a three-point suspension to the tractor.

WHEELS

Front Wheels have steel spokes cast in the hub and riveted to steel rims. They are mounted on ball bearings.

CONTROL

Steering is by bevel pinion and sector, being entirely enclosed and lubricated by oil splash. The steering wheel is located in the center of the tractor. Directly under it is the throttle lever. The spark lever is mounted on the dash. The gear shifter lever is on the left-hand side of the tractor, and the clutch pedal on the right.

The seat is directly behind the steering wheel in the center of the tractor, bringing the driver within easy reach of all controls.

TRACTOR SPEEDS

Plowing speed is 2 1/4 miles per hour; low speed 1 1/4 miles per hour; high speed 6 1/4 miles per hour; and reverse speed 2 1/2 miles per hour. This is calculated on engine speed of 1000 R. P. M.

Henry Ford's Gift to Civilization

Henry Ford has given to the world a Tractor that will revolutionize farming—and help win the war by doing the work of thousands of men loaned to Uncle Sam. Lord Norcliffe recently wrote in the London "Times":

"I mounted the Ford Tractor and plowed a half-mile furrow in about eight minutes—a speed of almost four miles an hour. Any boy or girl can drive it."

READ THE ABOVE SPECIFICATIONS VERY CAREFULLY.

Notice the speed on high gear. Also, that it is a four-cylinder motor.

Remember: There is no restricted territory. You can buy at Janesville no matter where you live.

Order yours today. Factory price, $750.00. Freight, $20.00.

Every farmer should have a FORDSON TRACTOR. It will make farming a pleasure.

Thursday will be the first real opportunity that the city of Janesville has had since the United States entered the war, to pay any special honor to a large detachment of the National Army, and it should be a special event. True, every contingent of men sent from Rock county to the various training camps have been given a suitable farewell, but Thursday the artillery brigade that has been in training for months past at Camp Grant, will march through the city enroute for the government reservation at Sparta for two months intensive training before starting for their duties across the waters.

Roughly speaking it will take the contingent two hours to pass through the city in a procession a mile long, and aside from the spectacular sight every citizen should pay honor to the men who are fighting our battles for us. Let the flags be displayed, let every school child carry a national emblem, let there be music and cheer and gladness that these soldier boys may know we appreciate their effort in our behalf. Let it be a half hour and a gala day.

These boys will be here tomorrow and in a few short months they will be "somewhere in France" doing their bit in this war of ages for the freedom of mankind and the safety of the world. There are Rock county boys in the ranks and among the officers and they should be given special greetings. War is a new problem for this nation and we can not honor these soldiers too much. So make Thursday a red letter day in the history of Janesville and uphold the traditions for loyalty that this community is so justly proud of.

OVER THERE.

Evidently the Othuwa dispatch that the American troops would not be utilized in the present drive in France emanated from some of the pro-German sources that have so long corrupted this nation and hampered the efficiency of the various war and navy departments. That American troops are now on the firing line and have been for months past, is evidenced by dispatches direct from France and that more American troops are being held in reserve for emergencies is also a fact. True that we will need a million or more men over there before we have an effective fighting force and several more millions in reserve in this country, but right now our boys are playing their part "over there" and upholding the honor and integrity of this nation on foreign soil.

YOUR SHARE IS FAIR.

Evidently yellow paint has its mortal effect upon the persons of individuals who refuse to subscribe to the demands of the government that they add the various war addictions with such subscriptions when demanded. The war chest idea of "Your Share is Fair" would equalize this burden and make the assessment just and evenly divided upon all. When one individual sets himself up above the rest of the community, refuses to meet the just demands made upon him, yellow paint is a powerful persuader and if properly applied leaves a stain that takes years to eradicate. One example should be enough for any community. Such a case has appeared and it is to be hoped methods of this kind will not have to be applied in the future.

AN INVESTIGATION.

There should be an investigation of the condition of the autoist who ran down four people on the Magnolia road Saturday evening. Careless driving by individuals not in a responsible condition or violating the rules of the road, demand prosecution and prompt punishment. Indications are that there are many circumstances relative to this Saturday night accident that need explanation, and the authorities should not be slow in making a thorough investigation.

These nice Germans that used to come over and kiss their Russian brothers in the trenches now only want a little indemnity of $4,000,000, as the price of their friendship, with a probably a billion or two later as a tip.

The modern idea of rest is driving an automobile and keeping one eye on pedestrians, one on other machines, a fourth on street signs, a fifth on policemen, a sixth on children, and the rest on the road.

One of the post-war problems will be to stop the knitters.

Some of them have acquired a terrible momentum.

It is said the rapidly increasing numbers of American magazine writers at the front are seriously threatening the food supply.

But authors can't stay at home these days—and eat.

The government has prohibited the use of profane language toward bulky army mules.

Hope it doesn't prohibit profane language toward bulky war gardens.

It couldn't be done.

A LETTER FROM THE FRONT.

Dear folks: Will you please try and write up some letters for me to send to my wife? The last boat brought only 73,552 new songs about the conflict. We need many more than that. There should be a war song for every soldier. As it is now, three or four of the boys have to sing the same song, which is not as it should be. Tell the American music publishers to print more, as the supply now is far below the demand. Yours,

JACK.

Who's Who
In Today's News

GEN. HUNTER LIGGETT.

General Hunter Liggett, the field commander of the American troops at the front is sixty-one years old. He was born in Pennsylvania and received his training at West Point. His first active service was as a second lieutenant in the Fifth U. S. Infantry, campaigning against the Indians in 1889. When the Spanish-American war began he was an infantry major and during his service in the Philippines was promoted to colonel.

His experiences in the Philippines were rather peculiar for, having been sent to a distant and lonely section of the Mindanao, he had nothing to do for two years save to watch the neighbors chase back the Moros.

He went to the army high school of the war college as a student officer in 1909. He proved an apt pupil becoming a director in 1910. In 1913 he became president of the war college.

For the two years in the interior of the Philippines and for five more as president of the war college General Liggett got little if any public recognition.

With the coming of the Mexican troubles, however, his chance came. He was made a brigade commander on the border. A year later was in charge of Fort William McKinley in the Philippines. In 1914 he was called home and in March of last year became a major general.

A writer very recently said of him: "As the first actual fighting leader at the front the man who is the actual man behind the gun, General Liggett will command unusual interest throughout the country that knows him so little and respect among the officers who know him so well."

General Hunter Liggett, the field commander of the American troops at the front is sixty-one years old. He was born in Pennsylvania and received his training at West Point. His first active service was as a second lieutenant in the Fifth U. S. Infantry, campaigning against the Indians in 1889. When the Spanish-American war began he was an infantry major and during his service in the Philippines was promoted to colonel.

His experiences in the Philippines were rather peculiar for, having been sent to a distant and lonely section of the Mindanao, he had nothing to do for two years save to watch the neighbors chase back the Moros.

He went to the army high school of the

WILLIAM G. HELLER IS PAINTED YELLOW

COUNTY WAR FUND WORKERS AROUSED BY ABSOLUTE REFUSAL TO BACK THE BOYS FIGHTING AT THE FRONT.

FAILED TO PAY SHARE

Taken to Stone Quarry North of City and Given Coat of Yellow Paint.—Had Many Chances to Pay.

Failure to prove his patriotism by paying his assessment to the Rock Island war fund resulted in William G. Heller, 41 N. Franklin street being stripped to the waist yesterday afternoon at the stone quarry two miles north of the city, and painted yellow by ardent workers for the war cause. The incident occurred shortly after three o'clock in the afternoon after Heller had proved to the workers by his statements that he was not in sympathy with the movement and that he would not pay his share to aid the boys at the front who are giving their lives.

Heller had been visited on several occasions by members of the various teams, but always stoutly refused to do his bit. Yesterday was the climax of the situation when the "strong arm" squad of five automobiles in which workers from Edgerton, Evansville, Orfordville, Beloit and Janesville were riding. Heller was visited at his home and with his absolute refusal he was put into one of the cars and taken to the quarry where he was given his last chance of paying before a coat of yellow paint was administered.

Although given every opportunity of not being a slacker to the cause at the quarry, Heller still refused. Following his being painted he was left in the quarry and made his way home on foot.

"When anyone who has the means to give a few dollars does so, those there who are giving their lives, homes and sacrificing positions and money refuse to do so. It is enough to make anyone want to give vent to his patriotic feelings," said one of the men who had a share in the incident yesterday afternoon. "With the working men and women showing a hundred per cent record in carrying out their patriotism, it is not fair to let anyone escape paying his assessment," he continued.

While the workers did not attempt to make a "grandstand" affair of the painting, the news of what they had done spread rapidly and as the car returned to the city many people lined the streets and watched the proceedings. For the men to show they were in entire accord with the principles which the men upheld. During all their trips to the various parts of the county the "strong arm" squad never faced such a condition of affairs as yesterday with the result that their outburst of patriotism broke forth.

In addition to the visit of Mr. Heller yesterday the squad made several other visits and in all cases were rewarded for their trip by the delinquents paying their assessments.

TROUBLE BREWING IN LOCAL MILK CIRCLES

ROCK COUNTY MILK PRODUCERS' ASSOCIATION VOTES TO CONSIDER AGREEMENT WITH KEE & CHAPELL COMPANY NULL AND VOID.

HOLD FOR SETTLEMENT

Majority of Producers Indignant Local Milk Council and Plan to Hold Out for Their Full Rights—Await Court's Decision.

Trouble is brewing in the milk situation in Rock county and something unexpected is going to break within the next few weeks. If present indications are any indication growing dissatisfaction among the producers is to shorten the agreement with the Kee & Chapell company one week ago last Saturday night culminated last evening when thirty-five members of the Rock County Milk Producers Association gathered at West Side Odd Fellows' hall and without a dissenting vote, decided to consider the agreement entered into and voted no members refusing to vote at all on the question saying that if they signed anything they would stick to it.

In voting to consider the signed agreement null and void the producers listened to the counsel of M. O. Monat, who stated that the agreement was in no way binding upon the members who signed it, the fact that it was specifically stated by Mr. Chapell that unless all of the members of the association signed to accept the compromise offered, the agreement would not be valid. When consulted later in the evening in regard to the pending lawsuits, Mr. Monat stated that it would only be necessary to have one case settled as the other cases were in similar instances and the judges' decision in one instance would apply to the remaining cases.

Were Budged.

Last night's meeting was a hasty gotten together affair. Mr. Potter of the Chicago milk board was in the city Monday evening and the conference with a few of the representatives of the local producers represented called for a quick kind of lambing for getting the Kee & Chapell company "put over" such an outrage on them. This stirred these members to action and the word was passed around yesterday morning that there would be a special meeting last night. It was necessary to have the meeting at that time as Kee & Chapell seemed to pay their milk checks this morning and in accepting the checks the producers felt that they would be accepting the compromise and would have no further recourse.

After discussing the matter of the compromise pro and con for two hours it was finally agreed that it was up to the individual members to decide that those who thought that the company had used them "fairly" could accept the checks today. The majority of those present last evening, however, expressed themselves as indignant at the compromise offered and that they would not accept the checks at the plant this morning.

It was brought out that the early part of the meeting that it was evident that the Kee & Chapell company were well able to pay the full price for the March and April milk for the reason that in May and June they agreed to pay $2.00 per 100 pounds, and $1.50, respectively, although the retail price of milk in Chicago now still remains at twelve cents per quart. It was stated that the company specifically agreed to take care of the surplus milk in March and to pay the full price for it if the producers would accept the above prices for May and June.

"Are Slackers."

"If the company agrees to abide by the government price and the men do not, they slackers," said an indignant member. "Taking up the statement that Kee & Chapell might close up the local plant if the producers did not accept the compromise, one licensed member declared: "Let 'em close up their plant here and nail up the windows like they did at Rochester. We'll live without 'em! We were making a living before they ever came here and we can make a living if they go away."

It was also brought out that the company had not lived up to another of its promises; that while money was being raised for the plant to come here, Kee & Chapell promised that they would raise enough milk that the farmers would bring in and that a bottling plant would be established. "The bottling plant was never established," said one, "and in agreeing to take care of all the milk they could get it would be only natural for them to pay the full price for it."

It was apparent that the producers resented the new road in which Mr. Monat brought the members to sign the compromise at the meeting held May 4th. The fact that the members did not get much to say that night and that they signed without fully understanding what they were doing was the statement of one member last night.

Some other members were most emphatic in their statements that they would not accept the compromise, "I will never agree to let them own half what he owes me," said one. Said another: "I went to the Kee & Chapell company last January and asked if they wanted my milk. Mr. Marsh, the manager, said, 'Yes, send it along.' When I asked him in regard to the price he said that the government price would be paid and then when I went to get my checks in March and April, I found the price short 35 cents per hundred pounds of that set by the government." And another: "Why didn't they do like the Greeks did? When the Greeks began getting more milk than they could use they told us not to bring it in, but Kee & Chapell had us bring it in and took us several weeks afterwards when the cows did not use it all and then cut the price."

Same Price Fixing.

The producers expressed themselves as heartily in accord with the plan of setting a price June 10th in Chicago, which would be good for the following six months. In this way a great amount of price quibbling each month may be avoided and both producer and buyer will be satisfied.

It was agreed to meet with the regular meeting next Monday but to hold a special meeting later in the week if it was found necessary. President Hugh Remmington presided at the meeting last night.

The test case of the dispute over the milk price is listed on the municipal court calendar for Friday morning at nine o'clock. Undoubtedly scores of citizens will attend the court session to hear the evidence and to await the decision. As there is about six thousand dollars involved in the outcome of the test case, producers will wait with anxiety for the decision.

Majority Accept Checks.

Evidently the producers after thinking over the results of last night's meeting, thought that it would be wiser to accept the compromise, as Mr. Marsh, manager of the local

Tales of the Friendly Forest

Let me see. I promised to tell you what Billy Bunny did with the cookies which the farmer's wife in the story gave him because he knew the story which were printed in the old family photograph album when she was a little girl. I suppose you think Billy Bunny ate those cookies right up. But he didn't. He put them in his knapsack, first, because he had eaten so many at the table that he couldn't eat any more, and, also, because he thought they'd be good for the little girl or boy who loved cookies and he could give them something which they would like. So he cranked up the Luckymobile and after he and Uncle Lucky had seated themselves on the front seat he said good-by and started off again, and by and by, no so far, they came across a bunch of rabbits and a rooster who were having a fight right in the middle of the road.

"Look out! Look out!" cried the kind old gentleman rabbit because he didn't want to knock them down, you know, and spoil their fun, for they weren't hurting each other. Then the turkey gobbler, who was the turkey gobble, would peck at the rooster. "Cock-a-doodle-doo, for that was the rooster's name, would jump to one side and the turkey gobbler would almost fall on his head, he was so excited. And then you see, whenever the rooster would try to pick the big fat turkey gobbler, the turkey gobbler, for that was the turkey's name, would hold his head up so high that the rooster couldn't reach it.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourselves to fight," said Uncle Lucky.

"For dogs delight to bark and bite, plant, stated this noon that ninety-five per cent of the farmers who had brought their milk in up to that time today had accepted their checks for the April milk. There were a few indignant ones who stoutly refused to take the proffered checks, preferring to wait until the test case is settled.

Whitewater News

Whitewater, May 15.—There was a Red Cross meeting held at the armory last evening and James McGulian gave an address. He was with the British army in the early part of the war and saw some of the worst fighting. At Vimy Ridge he lost his foot and was discharged from service. Mr. Gulian is not a pugilist, but it was hard to hear what he had to say, although he had many interesting things to explain. He told that in the early part of the war the English troops were rushed into the fighting without gas masks and the casualties were heavy, and it was a wonder that the Germans were stopped at all. He said that Mr. Gulian has seen lots of fighting, having fought in his first battle on his eighteenth birthday in the South. He was at the taking of Cartoon. When the present war broke out he was a prospector in the Canadian Northwest. The home guard gave him a drab after the fighting. Fred Wickham, Mr. Austin, and Morris Schmitz left this morning for Elkhorn to report for service. They will go to Lansing, Mich., for six months' schooling in the mechanical department.

Joseph Addison Chamberlain, who died at Delavan Sunday morning, was born in Calumet, Albany county, New York, June 2, 1848. When twelve years old he came with his step-father and his mother to Wisconsin and lived on a farm south of this city. He enlisted in the Fourth Wisconsin Co. A, when a lad of eighteen in 1861. His regiment was sent east and then south for the battle of Fort Hudson. He was not through the thigh, and failing to receive hospital treatment for some time he was seriously crippled. He was discharged in 1863 and was never able to walk without canes or crutches. He was married in 1864 and to this union were born only girls and four boys, of which only four are living. Mrs. Chamberlain was employed in a number of different positions here, but will best be remembered in the Coburn Coal and Dry office, where she served faithfully many years. She leaves a wife and four daughters—Mrs. Joseph Weyher of Stevens Point, Mrs. Eugene Rose of Madison and Mrs. John Farnie Patten and Mrs. John Schumacher of this city. The funeral was this afternoon at the church of St. Paul. Charles Whaley has returned to home in Beloit after a visit with relatives here.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Could a couple wishing to marry and keep it a secret for some time get a license in a nearby city and have a minister marry them there, or do they have to get the license in their home town or county? If they get a license here will it be published or can it be kept from the papers?

(2) Which is the proper way to pay the minister, and how much is usually given?

HAPPINESS.

(1) The surest way to keep the marriage a secret would be to marry in another town and county. It is less convenient. The city papers get hold of practically all the marriage licensees. Make the request when you get your license that it be kept out of the papers.

(2) A minimum fee to a minister is $5. If there is a best man the groom gives him the money to give to the minister. If there is no best man the groom hands the money to the minister after the ceremony or waits him a check.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going with a young man of twenty-five. He says he loves me and has even got me an engagement ring, but he never takes me out in public. When I suggest going to shows he always turns his nose up. I love him, but do not want to marry him as long as he acts this way. I think this city a stranger and has been here almost a year now. I met him soon after he came. Everyone seems to like him and he is quite popular.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: If a boy gave a girl a present and they should fall out afterwards, do you think she should give it back?

GRAVY.

If the present is valuable she should give it back, otherwise she should keep it.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a boy friend who is too young to be a husband. Do you think he is?

She is very young to use powder but in summer it is all right to do moderately in order to keep the skin cool-looking and make it feel more comfortable.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

College President Makes Discovery.

A college president who is a graduate of an Eastern college advises me to use glucose and olive oil to build up my nerves. I am in a condition of nervousness. What do you think of this idea?

ANSWER.—Glucose and olive oil are both wholesome foods, no better than bread and butter for the nerves.

ANSWER.—I am perfectly welcome and digestible foods. So far the president was correct—but not farther. There is a cause for your condition. The case is not so bad as to require a physician.

The doctor measures the blood pressure with an instrument which records the height of the blood pressure in millimeters on a column of mercury.

The systolic blood pressure in adults varies from 110 to 150 millimeters within normal bounds. The average is somewhere between 120 and 130 millimeters.

Some individuals who have been told they have high blood pressure often make the mistake of assuming that their trouble has been diagnosed without any other sign of the trouble, whatever it may be, has been elicited. These individuals then proceed to try various lines of self-prescribed treatment.

Among the procedures popularly supposed to be "good for blood pressure" is the sweet bath. An artificially induced perspiration does tend to lower the blood pressure for a half hour or so; heat, particularly moist heat, induces general relaxation and temporarily lowers the pressure in the blood in the arteries. But this effect is so ephemeral that it is scarcely worth the time and trouble. Not that artificial perspiration is a worthless remedy for certain diseases of which high blood pressure happens to be a physical sign.

Natural perspiration, induced by exercise in moderation, is generally a good basis for a remedy to perspiration artificially induced, because exercise increases metabolism or, in other words, burns up toxic or injurious waste matter, whereas the perspiration induced by various baths or heat arises as a mere excretion of water from the skin. If the patient is disturbed by disease the artificial perspiration may be a valuable help, but exercise is a mighty inferior substitute though more attractive to a lazy person we must admit.

We Hate To Take The Money

Dr. Brady requests the reader who anonymously contributed $10 to send an S. A. E. for its return. There are no charges of any kind for returning the stamped (S. A.) addressed envelope. If reply is not received the money will go to the Red Cross.

Skin Horse Treatment for S. H.

Kindly tell me some simple home treatment I can use for "superficial" skin horse.

ANSWER.—I don't know three formerly respectable men who are wearing full beards because their wives have corns.

Nothing to Hinder.

Talk is cheap. Here is Smith, who once said proudly in the club smoking room:

"For 28 years, gentlemen, I haven't touched a card, taken a drink, told a lie, done an unkind deed or smoked or sworn."

"Jimmy, I wish I could say that," Brown exclaimed enviously.

"Well, why don't you?" said a mutual friend, "Smith did."

THE MOST IMPORTANT QUALITY

It is a well known fact that certain of the most progressive business concerns keep record cards on which all their salespeople are graded, somewhat the way we used to be graded on our report card in school.

Only instead of reading and spelling and arithmetic, the salespeople get marks on such subjects as accuracy, honesty, knowledge of the goods, etc.

How Much Each Factor Counts in the Eyes of This Firm.

The other day one of these charts came into my hands. It was very interesting. I think it might be good idea if such charts could be given out among high school and college students, so that they might realize how much each factor counts towards success.

There are thirty-five headings under which the marking is done, and these five are grouped under four main heads: Physical, Intellectual, Personality and Salesmanship.

One Quality More Than Twice As Valuable as the Rest.

The point which interested me most in the whole chart was this: There were fourteen qualities listed under Physical, and one under One Quality More Than Twice As Valuable as the Rest.

Put courtesy in the balance against put courtesy in the balance against good manners, and "Please" goes out twice as much as any one of the others; it counted twice and a half times as much as that most vaunted of all business qualities—promptness.

There you have it again.

AGRICULTURAL and GARDEN DEPT.

ALLEN B. WEST, Director

Question—I am trying out the ever-bearing strawberries, having set a bed of them this spring. I am told that they will bear this season. Shall I let them bear this spring or shall I pick off the blossoms as is the practice with other kinds of berries?

Answer—You will get better results if you will keep the blossoms picked off until June. After that you may let them blossom and bear, as they will, and a good crop is good. You should have a good crop of berries this season. The writer has picked berries from everbearing plants until the frost took them in October.

Question—Shall I break off the sprouts of the seed potatoes before planting them? How large pieces shall I plant?

Will the different kinds of potatoes mix if planted side by side?

Answer—You should not break off the sprouts. It will delay the starting of the potatoes and is unnecessary labor.

But the potatoes for planting into boxes weighing about one ounce; however, be sure to soak potatoes in formaldehyde solution before planting to prevent scab. We do not want to waste any ground or any labor raising scabby potatoes this year. We must prevent it by using potatoes that are sound for seed and by using the formaldehyde solution. Proceed as follows: Prepare the solution by adding one cup of formalin or formaldehyde to fifteen gallons of water. Cover the seed with this and let it stand for two hours. Take them from the water and wash them. They are then ready to put for planting or they may be spread out to dry and stored for use later. In case they are stored care must be used to see that they do not come in contact with old sacks or barrels or boxes that have held diseased seed.

It is a good plan to spread the seed potatoes out in a warm, dry place to dry them before planting. In cutting them be sure to leave at least one eye.
